

Higher Education Policy Series 52

Experiential Learning Around the World

Employability and the Global Economy

Edited by Norman Evans

Jessica Kingsley Publishers
London and Philadelphia

Contents

	Acknowledgements	7
	Foreword	9
	List of Abbreviations	11
1.	AP(E)L: Why? Where? How? Setting the International Scene Norman Evans, Goldsmiths' College, University of London	15
2.	Recognizing Learning outside of Schools in the United States of America Morris T. Keeton, Institute for Research on Adults in Higher Education, University of Maryland	31
3.	The Evolution of AP(E)L in England Norman Evans, Goldsmiths' College, University of London	49
4.	Canada: The Story of Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition Deborah Blower, Red River College of Applied Arts, Science and Technology, Winnipeg	83
5.	France: The Story of La Validation des Acquis (Recognition of Experiential Learning) Michel Feutrie, Université des Sciences et Technologies de Lille	103
6.	Scotland: The Story of the Assessment of Prior Experiential Learning Norman Sharp, Scottish Office, and Fiona Reeve and Ruth Whittaker, Glasgow Caledonian University	117

7.	The Republic of Ireland: The Story of the Assessment of Prior Experiential Learning Denis McGrath, National Council for Education Awards, Dublin	135
8.	The Recognition of Prior Learning in Australia: An Ambivalent Relationship with the Academy, Competency-Based Education and the Market Rick Flowers and Geof Hawke, University of Technology, Sydney	151
9.	Recognition of Prior Learning; The Promise and the Reality for New Zealanders Phil Ker, Mary Melrose and Maureen Reid, Auckland Institute of Technology	167
10.	Learning Assessment in South Africa Yunus Ballim, University of Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, Rahmat Omar, South African Institute for Distance Education, and Alan Ralphs, Joint Education Trust, Johannesburg	181
11.	2000 Plus? Norman Evans, Goldsmiths' College, University of London	197
	The Contributors	213
	Subject Index	215
	Name Index	221