

Private Property in the 21st Century

The Future of an American Ideal

Edited by

Harvey M. Jacobs

University of Wisconsin-Madison

In Association with the Lincoln Institute of Land Policy

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Acknowledgments	x
About the Lincoln Institute	xii
Foreword	xiii

1 Introduction: Is all that is solid melting into air? Harvey M. Jacobs •	1
---	---

PART I PHILOSOPHICAL, LEGAL AND ECONOMIC PERSPECTIVES ON PROPERTY RIGHTS

2 Property rights: Locke, Kant, Peirce and the logic of volitional pragmatism Daniel W. Bromley	19
3 Charting the constitutional course of private property: Learning from the 20th century Jerold S. Kayden	31
4 Why are judges so wary of regulatory takings? William A. Fischel	50
5 Propriety through commodity? Why have legal environmentalists embraced market-based solutions? Gregory S. Alexander	75

PART II NEW REALIZATIONS OF PROPERTY IN THE 21st CENTURY?

6 Local government as private property: Towards the post-modern municipality Robert H. Nelson	95
7 Property without community: The (frequent) consequence of tax exemptions for non-profit institutions Donald A. Krueckeberg	125

8	Property rights in the 21st century: Righting past wrongs Ann Louise Strong	143
---	---	-----

PART III PRIVATE PROPERTY IN THE 21st CENTURY

9	The future of an American ideal Harvey M. Jacobs	171
---	--	-----

	Index of US legal cases	185
	Selected index	188