

EXTERNAL CORPORATE VENTURING: Strategic Partnerships for Competitive Advantage

DISSERTATION
der Hochschule St. Gallen für Wirtschafts-, Rechts-, und Sozialwissenschaften
zur Erlangung der Würde eines
Doktors der Wirtschaftswissenschaften

vorgelegt von

MARTIN NIEDERKOFER
von Oesterreich

Genehmigt auf Antrag der Herren Professoren
Dr. E. Brauchlin und Dr. P. Lorange

Dissertation Nr. 1105

CONTENTS

Figures	xiii
Tables	xiv
Preface	xv
I. INTRODUCTION	1
A. The situational context of external corporate venturing	1
B. A definition of external corporate venturing	2
C. Focus of the study	6
D. Contents of the study	9
II. LITERATURE REVIEW	13
A. Corporate venturing and cooperative management in the literature	14
1. Research on corporate entrepreneurship	15
2. Research on corporate venture capital	19
3. Research on joint ventures	23
4. The synthesis: External corporate venturing	28
B. Theoretical perspectives on interorganizational cooperation	32
1. The transaction cost perspective	32
2. The organization theory perspective	36
3. The strategic management perspective	38
III. THE RATIONALE FOR EXTERNAL CORPORATE VENTURING	41
A. Introduction.	42
1. The perspective of the small, high-growth venture	46
2. The perspective of the large, established corporation	46
B. Control over external resources in the small, high-growth venture	49
1. The opportunity-driven entrepreneur	50
2. The use of external resources	51

3. The role of the large firm as a partner	52
4. Growth through corporate partnering	55
C. Innovation and entrepreneurship in the large, established firm	56
1. Significance of innovation and entrepreneurship	57
The importance of technological innovation	58
The importance of corporate entrepreneurship	59
2. External corporate venturing and technological change	60
The nature of technological change	61
Monitoring technological change	63
Accumulating know-how for diversification	65
Spreading technology bets	66
Complementing internal skills on the technological border	69
Saving time in development	70
3. External corporate venturing and corporate entrepreneurship....	71
Routinization and functional specialization	71
Disruptive venturing activities	72
Entrepreneurial management training	73
Stimulating organizational change	74
APPENDIX: A general model for external corporate venturing	75
1. The concept of invisible assets	75
2. The properties of invisible assets	76
3. The role of external corporate venturing	78
Transcending current resource levels	78
Laying the basis for growth and renewal	78
4. Consequences of the invisible asset interpretation	81
IV. THE IMPLEMENTATION OF EXTERNAL CORPORATE VENTURING	83
A. Strategic fit	85
1. Components of strategic fit	86
Resource complementarity	86
Goal compatibility	86
2. Change and strategic misfit	87
Environmental changes	87
Internal change	88
Effects of strategic misfit	88
B. Operational fit	89
1. Structures and procedures	90
2. Values and culture	91
3. Effects of structural/cultural incompatibilities	92
4. Operational support within the larger firm	93
Decision and implementation by different actors	94
Disruption of existing structures and procedures	94
Not-Invented-Here syndrome	94
Effects of a lack of support	95
C. The initial negotiation process	96
1. Understanding the partner's resources	96

2. Understanding the partner's interests	98
3. Addressing central operating issues	98
Relationship format	99
Communication channels and coordination mechanisms	99
Strategies to overcome operating misfit	100
D. Boundary spanning	100
1. Bridging cultural and structural gaps	101
Separation of roles and creation of a clear interface	101
Selection of experienced boundary spanners	102
2. Drumming up internal support	102
Internal boundary spanning	102
Role conflicts in boundary spanning	103
3. Learning and transferring know-how and skills	103
4. Structural mechanisms supporting boundary spanning	104
E. Cooperative adjustments and flexibility	106
1. Operating adjustment	107
2. Renegotiation and repositioning	108
3. Exit	108
4. The importance of flexibility	109
F. Goodwill and trust	110
1. The effects of goodwill and trust	110
2. The sources of trust in a relationship	112
APPENDIX: Measurement of success	113
 V. PROPOSITIONS AND THE RESEARCH DESIGN	 117
A. Central propositions	117
1. Rationale	118
Rationale smaller firm	118
Rationale larger firm	118
Rationale in the context of invisible assets	118
2. Implementation	118
Strategic fit	118
Operational fit	118
Negotiations	119
Boundary spanning	119
Flexibility and adjustments	119
Trust and goodwill	120
B. Research design	120
1. Choice of research methodology	120
Development of grounded theory	120
Quasi-longitudinal design	121
Multiple case study design	121
2. Data gathering and model development	122
Data gathering	122
Model development	124

3. Quality tests for the research design	125
Construct validity	125
Internal validity	125
External validity	125
Reliability	126
 VI. CASE STUDIES	 127
A. Linear Technology Corporation - Texas Instruments	127
1. Case description	127
Overview	127
A short introduction to semiconductor manufacturing	127
Strategic positions and rationale for cooperation	128
Negotiations and the agreement	129
Cooperation experiences	131
Future outlook	135
2. Case analysis	136
Rationale	136
Negotiations	136
Development of the relationship	137
B. Tangent Systems - Intergraph.	139
1. Case description	139
Overview	139
Strategic positions and rationale for cooperation	139
Negotiations and the agreement	140
Early cooperation experiences	142
Renegotiation and repositioning of the partnership	143
2. Case analysis	145
Rationale	145
Negotiations	146
Development of the relationship	148
C. Netlink - Tandem Computers	150
1. Case description	150
Overview	150
Strategic positions and rationale for cooperation	150
Negotiations and the agreement	152
Cooperation experiences	154
2. Case analysis	158
Rationale	158
Negotiations	159
Development of the relationship	159
D. Immunorex Associates	161
1. Case description	161
Overview	161
A short introduction to biotechnology	162
Strategic positions and rationale for cooperation	163
Negotiations and the joint venture agreement	164
Early cooperation experiences	166
Changing interests	168
Dissolution of the partnership	170

2. Case analysis	172
Rationale	172
Negotiations	172
Development of the relationship	173
E. Sunagra	177
1. Case description	177
Overview	177
Strategic positions and rationale for cooperation	177
Prior cooperation experiences	179
Rationale for the joint venture	180
Negotiations and the joint venture agreement	181
Cooperation experiences	182
2. Case analysis	184
Rationale	184
Negotiations	185
Development of the relationship	186
F. Pharma - Generon	188
1. Case description	188
Overview	188
A short introduction to the world of generic drugs	188
Strategic positions and rationale for cooperation	188
Negotiations and the agreement	189
Early cooperation experiences	191
Reassessment of the relationship	193
2. Case analysis	194
Rationale	194
Negotiations	195
Development of the relationship	196
VII. CROSS CASE ANALYSIS	199
A. Rationale and focus of relationships	199
1. Cooperative rationale for small, new firms	199
2. Cooperative rationale of large, established firms	201
B. Evolutionary patterns	206
1. Negotiations	206
2. Operating misfit	207
3. Dealing with operating misfit	209
4. Strategic misfit	210
5. Renegotiation/repositioning	211
6. Sources and effects of trust and goodwill	212
7. Summary	213
C. Other issues	215
1. Experience effects	215
2. Implementation of different focus	216

vm. CONCLUSIONS	219
A. Rationale	219
1. Small firm	219
2. Large firm	220
Dealing with technological change	220
Increasing corporate entrepreneurship	220
Differentiation of rationale by focus	221
B. Implementation	221
1. Evolutionary model	222
2. Other patterns	222
On relationship focus and negotiations	222
On boundary spanning	223
On adjustments and flexibility	223
On goodwill and trust	223
C. Managerial implications	224
1. Initial negotiation process and contract drafting	224
2. Boundary spanning	225
3. Flexibility	226
4. Goodwill and trust	227
5. The evolution of the ideal relationship	227
D. Implications for further research	229
 BIBLIOGRAPHY	 233